Trans. of Nordisk Medicin (Sweden) 1960, v. 63, no. 18, p. 565-566.

DESCRIPTORS: *Urinalysis, Colorimetric analysis, Blood, Errors, *Iodides

Urine tests for blood in which the hemoglobin acts as a peroxidase to oxidize indicators such as gualac, benzidine or orthotolidine may give a false positive in the presence of traces of such inorganic materials as copper, bromides, or iodides. Iodides are the most frequent cause of error in such tests. These tests should not be used for patients who have been on any type of iodine (Biological Sciences--Pathology, TT, v. 10, no. 12)

DESCRIPTORS: *Diagnosis, *Mathematical models, Medical examination, Psychiatry, Diseases, Medical personnel

Clinical diagnosis of psychiatric diseases is treated mathematically by assigning values to the patient's symptoms or complaints. The examiner assigns valuecoefficients to the symptoms according to the disease which they indicate; i.e., symptom A may be more important in disease S than in disease T. If disease S which also includes symptoms B and C is indicated, the examiner next looks for symptoms B and C. Symptomus
